MY STAY A MAS DE PIERRE: A PARADISIAC GETAWAY-----

I would like to share with readers this unique experience to live at Mas De Pierre, by staying a dream, the time of an escapade. I 've been lucky to spend a whole week end at Mas De Pierre, that charmed me by the heavenly places, nestled in a hill of Saint Paul de Vence. Even before you detail these unusual times, I share my critical and objective on this dream place. There are so many places worldwide, that are beautiful, aesthetic, comfortable, luxurious, with a gourmet restaurant, with stunning views, an azure blue pool, which make us enjoy and come back. But here in Mas de Pierre, all these criteria have been validated and checked, but above all, what marked me and remake me back without hesitation is the refinement of the decoration, the lush garden and vegetable garden. But more than anything else, what is remarkable is the infinite kindness and professionalism of the staff offering that special extra-care. They are men and women who shape this place by their availability, attention to detail, excellence in the gesture and make that one and wrapped leather feels good to come back! This is why I would say that Mas De Pierre is a Relais Chateaux well deserving the 5 stars, but it also prints a nice soul.

THE BATSIDE ROOMS ARE ALMOST CUSTOMISED BY DESIGN BASED ON THEMES-----In each room, there is a special detail such as flat screen TV, fully modern, is hidden in a small closet made of brush wood, copying the rest of the decor, old way.-----

The pool has the particularity to offer privacy by the tents cabins separated from one guest's to another, in a private space.

The vegetable garden is has the same image that one has of the Provence: herbs like thyme come in different species, Zaatar, Lemon, Slick, A broadleaf ... the most common being told as wild thyme , rosemary, too, the curry has a place, peppermint that we will find later in a dish of Chef Emmanuel Lehrer. It also uses often garlic flowers, "Fleur d'Ail". This is the first time I saw, planted in the ground, a perennial and purple, and whose taste is so pronounced.-----

How anyone would say it is as if one uses the pinnacle of this timeless condiment, that is garlic. Since few chefs are getting going up and down in their search, they found out that garlic was very beneficial and used since ancient times. In Egypt, the builders of the Pyramids already consumed it, even if it was the Romans who introduced it in France much later. So here you are the latest scoop: The garlic flower is eaten as a vegetable flavouring fish or meat dishes, decorating with the color of its flower blossoming in the plate garnished.-----

Le Mas de Pierre deserves its reputation of peace haven's label. Thus the hotel holds a loyal clientele and counts both Corporate, individual or even of celebrities which is respected for anonymity, discretion applied by the team staff, and excellency highly shaped.-----

The legend continues, as we go on, and discover this place that has to offer : A cocoon nestled in the surroundings of Saint Paul de Vence, or different types of guests can mingle and styles in a natural decorum, or stay aside in a calm prestigious shelter, or we could say a a a haven of peace luxuriant.-----

MAS DE PIERRE CAN NOT LEAVE INDIFFERENT IT HAS THE POWER OF CHARM THE VISITOR WHO PROMISES TO COME BACK-----

Who said that we should forget the comfort on behalf of the picturesque? Le Mas de Pierre contradicts this assertion because the magical alliance between the authentic and contemporary have naturally brought joy to its guests.-----

Le Mas de Pierre has the delicacy to organise me a guided tour of the village of Saint Paul de Vence and the Maeght Foundation, contemporary art, another emblematic must of this mythical village. Nils the chauffeur who happens to be also the butler, drives me up to to the village of Saint Paul de Vence, in a Rolls Royce at the height of the prestige Mas de Pierre.

It is a special and non negligible attention, which notes the high quality of upscale staff in line with the owner's image of the premises and its General Director Christian Baumgatner. This will be subject of a forthcoming publication. To be continued.

THE BEST ASSET OF MAS DE PIERRE IS THE QUALITY OF SERVICE IN LINE WITH ITS PRESTIGE -----The service is both discreet and very caring for their customers, positioning the establishment in the high end. Moreover, this optimal service, could have had to be out of the picturesque and quiet beauty , with stunning views over the village of Saint Fulani De Vence, enough. But Mas De Pierre, pushed most loins limits, to please the customers, and certainly also for the owner whose personal touch prints its interest for plants, flowers, birds, and art. Pleasure is also felt posters smiles of all the staff members, who seem to relish the opportunity to work in such a beautiful place. The Nills driver of an extreme courtesy and friendliness made me the tour of the gardens and explains that the owner Mr Chambon, wanted this place to be flowers and lush, and the landscape Guy, clocked a master stroke by orchestrating an order so natural with these plants and flowers and the vegetable garden. Fountains are dotted by all the crannies of the gardens is to bring both permanent milling and art and sculpture shine patinated. Mr Chambon's wife, has also brought his personal touch and feminine by its requirement offer best and for everyone. This is how she did was build a greenhouse orchids for growing the delicate flowers, each of the 56 rooms at the Mas De Pierre. A delicate attention too that this flower so rare and clamshell, which for the rest is the most advanced flower vegetal kingdom. It took at least in this chain of rooms and suites. My room lavender junior suite was exquisite, carefully prepared and checked 3 times daily via room exceptional service.-----
